The Level Field Foundation Names the East Greenbush Miracle League as First Beneficiary of Charitable Funds

Pioneering disabled sports league is building a new multi-purpose field to serve handicapped youths across Upstate New York

BOSTON, Mass. (May 20, 2008) – The Level Field Foundation, a new non-profit organization funding the construction and renovation of athletic facilities for inner-city and disabled youths, announced today that the East Greenbush Miracle League, a multi-sport venture for special needs children, would be the first recipient of the foundation’s charitable monies.

“I was fortunate enough to volunteer with the Miracle League during high school and college, and it was one of the most rewarding experiences of my life,” said Ryan Farnan, Executive Director of The Level Field Foundation, “The joy that the league brings to these amazing kids, and the selflessness of the volunteers involved, is an inspiration to us all.”

Burke Adams, Founder of the Miracle League, expressed gratitude for the foundation’s generosity – “We are very thankful for the support of The Level Field Foundation,” said Adams, “They’re helping to put smiles on a lot of kids’ faces.”

The upcoming donation will help fund the construction of Jaime M. Adams Field, an accessible, multi-sport rubberized field in East Greenbush, NY (a suburb of Albany.) The field will be a centralized and safe place for the Miracle League to run its numerous sports leagues and will benefit handicapped youths within a 100 mile radius.
